Anywhere on Any Device

Built for iPhones, Android smartphones, tablets, and web browsers on Macs and PCs, Clio lets you practice from anywhere. Use the mobile app to manage your calendar and track time on the go.

A Fully Aligned Team

Use the firm and individual calendars to keep track of meetings and deadlines for your entire team. Collaborate and keep track of changes and edits with our integrated versioning, and share files with clients through our secure portal.

A Stellar Support Team

You're never more than a call or message away from getting the technical support and training you need. Our support team helps you solve your issues, get answers to your questions, and make the most of your Clio subscription.

Detailed Reports

Get data that's key to evaluating your firm's performance, like accounts receivable, customer funds, productivity, and general revenue.

Court Rules

In addition to meetings, there are also key dates by which you must complete certain tasks, as required by courts. With this integration for Elite plan subscribers, you'll no longer have to research these dates or manually count days until the deadline—Clio will do it for you.

Time and Billing

Clio's intuitive timekeeping lets you track all of every working moment spent on a case. Start a timer on your phone, tablet, or computer and capture time as you work or record bulk entries at the end of the day. You can also create time entries directly from calendar entries, tasks, and documents.

Bank-level Security

Collaborate and share documents with your clients through our secure portal. We've partnered with trusted leaders in data security to give Clio bank-grade level protection and daily security audits—and to give you peace of mind.

The Hub of Your Practice

Clio integrates seamlessly with other popular applications, from accounting to legal research to document management, and we're adding more continuously so that you can get more done, more quickly.
